It's Our Secret, by Mick Vincent

The story of the abuser, Archdeacon Colin, and the abused child, Jack, takes us through the evil and darkness in the first part of the book, but then the love of other characters such as Katherine brings hope and healing, allowing the light to pour through Jack's life.

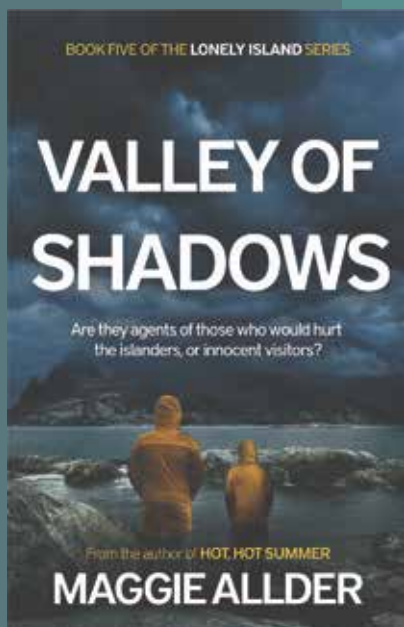

Written by an ex-vicar, this fictional novel is based on his experience of pastorally caring for the abused and the abusers.

Valley of Shadows

Book 5 of the Lonely Island Series by Maggie Alder

Even a community on a small island can face threats and conflict – not just threats of an ever-changing climate and inevitable disagreements – but also, the menace created when a less-than-benign government seeks to impose an unwelcome, and probably unworkable, project on the local people.

Other books in this Series:

Dark Waters (Book 1)

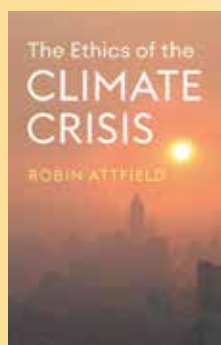

Marigold's Tale (Book 2)

The Reclamation of Jarvis (Book 3)

Hot Hot Summer (Book 4)

The climate crisis is the crisis of our time.

In Robin Attfield's book The Ethics of the Climate Crisis, his "call for wiser, more responsible stewardship goes along with an exemplary care for facts, figures and detailed reportage. This book should be read by anyone who shares his passionate concern for the flourishing of life on Earth." (Christopher Norris, Cardiff University).

His previous book Environmental Thought: A Short History presents a history of environmental thinking, religious contributions included.

Both books are published by Polity Press (Cambridge), and available from bookshops or www.politybooks.com.

Latest from Leela Dutt

A blend of stories involving time travel, one non-human narrator, outsiders who are unwelcome visitors, grandmothers who lose their families; oh and a Quaker whose Meeting celebrates her eventful life at ninety. FRESH BEGINNINGS is delightfully illustrated by Kate Attfield.

A DISTANT VOICE IN THE DARKNESS is a love story over decades, stretching from Wales to Nigeria, taking in Kolkata and Copenhagen; the heroine is shot at a roadblock in Lesotho...

BESSIE WHITE

A collection of letters from Quaker Bessie White's great grandfather. After installing the telegraph in the Caucasus and managing the Moscow gas works, he sets up Ludwig and Smith manufacturing pipework for fire brigades and components for the Moscow sewerage system. A Unitarian, he sings in the choir of the Anglican church and chairs the Foreign Cemetery Committee. His daughter travels to England and becomes engaged to a trainee minister. Will Arthur allow his only daughter to marry on only £200 a year?

JESUS IN HIS TIME

BY ELIZABETH COLEMAN

In a set of short accounts, this book vividly conveys what it could have been like to be with Jesus, listening to his poetic teaching, watching his powerful healing, and experiencing his overwhelming love and concern for everyone around him. It describes the historical Jesus, not the Jesus of the church and the creeds.

Emil Finch, by Anthony Gimpel

Written in second person present tense, you are Emil Finch. You live in London, deeply troubled by the events of the Holocaust. You are a land surveyor. Do you listen to Dick, your assistant? What happened in the Zoo? How does a cockatoo talk to Nelson on his column in Trafalgar Square? Is the police inspector smart or just plain stupid? Who is the old lady? And the woman you've met. Does she love you? Do you love her? Did you meet her or did she meet you? Who on earth is D? So many questions. How can you resolve any of them?
