

For Friends who work in schools: a supportive hub offering spiritual nourishment

Zoe Simms and Jenni Back facilitate a regular zoom for all Quakers (and others with similar values) who work in education. A spacious place to share how we live our Quaker values in schools, state or private.

In schools we seek to do our best for children but have many other demands. Our Quaker values are challenged by busyness, leaving little time to nurture our own well-being, or meet with understanding people.

Join us on the second Monday of every month at 8pm for an hour of silent worship, worship sharing and other sharing to find strength, support and joys. Interested?

Pass on this news among people in schools and all interested in Quaker values in education.

Next Zoom: 8pm – Monday 9th March
