READ, REFLECT, RESPOND: EXPLORE OUR QUAKER WAY WITH WOODBROOKE

Woodbrooke is working alongside the Book of Discipline Revision Committee and Quakers in Britain to offer courses, sessions and resources to help Quaker communities explore the draft of our new book of discipline.

Explore our guiding resources, including themed Pathways to help you engage with different aspects of the draft, guidance on discernment, and much more.

These facilitated days offer space to engage with the draft text alongside other Friends, ask questions, share perspectives and deepen our understanding.

Book a Woodbrooke Where You Are Workshop for your community, where you can explore selected sections of the draft and work towards developing a collective response.

Hear directly from members of the Book of Discipline Revision Committee about the journey so far. These visits explore the history, purpose and discernment behind the revision.

We are offering a number of online courses and sessions on topics including the revision process, approaches to discernment and engaging with the draft through themed Pathways.
