

DEEPEN YOUR UNDERSTANDING OF QUAKERISM

with Taught Postgraduate Modules from Woodbrooke's Centre for Research in Quaker Studies & The Queen's Foundation

Woodbrooke's Centre for Research in Quaker Studies has partnered with The Queen's Foundation to offer taught modules with a Quaker element. The Quaker Studies pathway, consisting of two core modules, Justice in Theory and Practice and The Practice of Silence and Spirituality, invites students to explore significant topics through a Quaker lens, drawing from a range of theological, philosophical, and spiritual traditions.

Applications are now open for the Quaker Studies PGCert pathway, with teaching starting in September 2026 for the first module, The Practice of Silence and Spirituality.

Find out more about the modules and how to apply at: WOODBROOKE.ORG.UK/QUEENS

